December 11, 2019

Dear Mr. Marc Ventre,

On behalf of CMES, I would like to express my sincere thanks for your presence and support to 2019 International Conference on Mechanical Engineering Education (ICMEE 2019), which was successfully held in Shanghai on October 25-28, 2019.

The ICMEE 2019 has been a grand gathering for the international mechanical engineering community, with about 1,000 participants of over 200 universities, enterprises and relevant institutions from 14 countries. We gathered the wisdom of the current leaders in global mechanical engineering education, to diagnose the current state of mechanical engineering education together, explore the training of outstanding engineering talents, and promoted multi-disciplinary and in-depth exchanges and cooperation.

As a supporter of the conference, the IESF promoted the events among your network which has raised awareness of the conference, and sent the IESF keynote speaker Prof. Ivan Iordanoff who has brought significant perspective and thought-provoking insight to the conference.

Many thanks again to your support and efforts. We are looking forward to your feedback on the conference, and potential opportunity to work with your organization in the future.

I wish you all the best and the relations between CMES and IESF greater development in the new year.

Sincerely yours,

Lu Daming
Vice President & General Secretary
